- Able to uncover difficult to find vulnerabilities in your process and your technology

- Cost effective, high value assessment to uncover your unknowns

- Detailed findings with actionable roadmaps for remediation

- 12 month ongoing support via Security Colony

- Breach monitoring for email breaches

One thing that all organizations face are threats and vulnerabilities from the outside world. Breaches happen all the time, every day, and the bad news, you might not know that it happened to you.

The Rapid Action Program by Trustwave (RAP) is a lightweight (yet powerful) assessment that searches out your unknown vulnerabilities. The Trustwave team rapidly and pragmatically identify exposures that are likely to get you hurt. With RAP, our dedicated service team will make sure that you keep your vulnerabilities from being exposed by putting locks on the doors and windows.

You Can't Control What You Don't Know

Do you understand where you are most vulnerable and where an attack might occur? Are you and your team aware of the attack surface as well as your vulnerabilities? Do you know if you've already lost data? Is your team ready for a data breach?

Don't spend months doing security audits when key issues can be identified quickly and closed just as quickly. Spend more time solving the problems than identifying the problems.

Value Based Rapid Action Program

The Rapid Action Program from Trustwave is an inclusive offering that provides organizations the tools they need to reduce their exposure from outside threats. The RAP offering includes:

- Security Colony Core Subscription for 12 months
- Facilitated Security Colony Maturity Assessment
- Pre-Attack Vulnerability Assessment

Security Colony Maturity Assessment

The Rapid Action Program by Trustwave gives clients the self paced tools for both Threat Assessment and Maturity Assessment. The former looks at the industry you are in, the nature and size of your business, and the stakeholders you are accountable to. The latter uses the structure of the NIST Cyber Security Framework to assess your ability to identify, protect, detect, respond and recover appropriately to maintain a suitable level of security. In total, there are 48 questions, and completing the exercise thoughtfully will take about half an hour.

Pre-Attack Vulnerability Assessment

Organizations could have extremely effective security controls on their digital assets but have little visibility and alerting on any leaked data on the public domain.

As part of the Rapid Action Program, Trustwave will perform an assessment of a wide attack surface from the perspective of a determined threat actor who performs reconnaissance to gain a foothold into the organization from which further attacks could take place.

Trustwave will focus on data and vulnerability exposure from this external perspective which can be used to strengthen the company's security posture; beyond what existing security tools and methods can do.

Tabletop Exercise

Tabletop exercises are great at identifying questions that need answers, responsibilities that need owners or processes that need developing. As part of the Rapid Action Program, a member of the Trustwave team starts by working with you to understand your organization's environment, personnel and objectives.

Through the tabletop exercise:

- Trustwave professionals customize a scenario for you, which means your team can get results from just a few hours of participation.
- Everyone on your team can focus on how they'd respond to a specific cyber incident
- Everyone will familiarize themselves with their role during an incident.
- Will uncover whether roles are understood, communication lines are clear, procedures are available and more.

Roadmap

Having delivered thousands of audits and assessments over many years, and supporting clients through many more, we know that almost every organization has a long list of 'things to fix'. The aim of the Rapid Action Program is not to add to this with more items on the shopping list. Instead, the Rapid Action Program is about getting quick wins to harden your security posture, and to focus on real-world attacks and vulnerabilities.
